Rector Writes

June 2017

The General Election on 8th June cannot be ignored. Religion and politics don't mix, it is said. But others emphasise the value of a faith-foundation - or an upbringing in the Vicarage - for political conviction.

All who engage in political campaigning and who stand for election deserve our support. The demands of being in the public eye can be unrelenting. Simply being a volunteer to assist one's chosen political party can be very demanding at the time of a General Election. In our 'first past the post' system many, who will have made preparations to serve, will lose, or will feel themselves rejected. All who commit to take part in the process of electioneering should be supported. All of us should vote.

In their pastoral letter of May 6th about the General Election, the Archbishops of York and Canterbury urge people to set aside apathy and cynicism and draw new inspiration from the ancient Christian virtues of love, trust and hope. Following divisions of recent years, it calls for reconciliation drawing on shared British values based on cohesion, courage and stability. Faith, they argue, has a unique role to play in preventing extremism and religiously motivated violence.

"Contemporary politics needs to re-evaluate the importance of religious belief," they insist. "The assumptions of secularism are not a reliable guide to the way the world works, nor will they enable us to understand the place of faith in other people's lives". They add: "Political responses to the problems of religiously-motivated violence and extremism, at home and overseas, must also recognise that solutions will not be found simply in further secularisation of the public realm."

Don't forget to vote on 8th June!

On a very English sort of family... Throckmarsh Hall revisited.....

Readers of the St. James the Least letters have asked to know a little about the family history of the characters involved; it is a little unusual...

Many decades ago, Admiral Horatio and his wife the Honourable Mrs Chalfont-Morgan lived at Throckmarsh Hall, Gloucestershire. There they had two children, Eustace and Penelope.

Eustace followed a traditional path: public school, then Oxford. He was something of a disappointment to his father as careers in the armed forces, law or finance were clearly not appropriate to his temperament. Having sung in the school chapel choir and later been an occasional church attender, ordination into the Church of England seemed the only choice.

Eustace served his curacy in one of the more fashionable churches in central London, before becoming chaplain to the bishop of one of our ancient dioceses in southern England. His machiavellian talents made the life of the bishop so much easier that by way of reward, Eustace was comfortably settled into one of the pleasanter parishes in the Cotswolds, where he remained for the next 40 years. His eventual sudden death, the result of an apoplectic seizure, would happen when he read in "The Times" one morning over breakfast that one of his former curates had been appointed a bishop. But that is fortunately still some years off.

Penelope's life was rather different. She was recalled from finishing school in Switzerland to become companion to her mother, on the death of her father while at sea. One day, while running errands in the local market town, she met Jack Crump, a second-hand car salesman from Liverpool. She eloped and they married. Within months, it was discovered that he was already married - to two other ladies. Unfortunately by this time, Penelope was pregnant and later gave birth to her only child, Darren.

One day many years later, Darren was cycling to his work at the local undertakers when he suddenly knew he was being called to ordination. After studying by correspondence course, he was ordained and served his curacy in an inner-city parish in the North West of England.

His only living relation was his uncle Eustace, who felt a duty to keep an eye on his innocent nephew. The two were less chalk and cheese, more Chateau d'Yquem and draught bitter. Uncle Eustace, with resigned determination, sent his young nephew a series of monthly letters, advising him on all aspects of parish ministry.

Darren later denied that it was these letters that eventually drove him to minister to natives in the remote forests of Brazil, far from any postman...

Celebrating our 999 service

The 999 emergency service was introduced 80 years ago this month – on 30th June 1937, in the London area only.

It was the first service of its kind in the world, and a notice in the Evening News suggested that the public should use it only if "the man in the flat next to yours is murdering his wife, or you have seen a heavily masked cat burglar peering round the stack pipe of the local bank building".

For less urgent matters, such as a lorry coming to rest in their garden, people were advised to "just call up the local police".

The first call resulted in the arrest of a would-be burglar, but not all were so serious. Of 1336 calls made in the first week, 91 were prank calls.

One of the more unexpected results of the 999 service was its effect on telephone switch-rooms, where a "raucous buzzer" sounded when someone dialled 999. It was reported that "a few of the girls found the situation too much and had to be carried out".

Despite that, 999 was a big success, but it wasn't until after World War Two that it reached most other parts of the UK. It became available to the entire country only when all the telephone exchanges were automated in 1976.

The idea for an emergency number came after operators couldn't be reached to alert the fire brigade to a fire that killed five women in London's Wimpole Street in 1935. The number 999 was chosen because it was easy to dial, even in the dark, on old-style phones. The US waited until 1968 to introduce its own emergency number, 911.

More than half of genuine 999 calls ask for police assistance. The next most requested is the ambulance service, followed by the fire brigade and, finally, the coastguard.

Some churches have used the idea of an emergency service for people in need of various kinds of help – though in those cases the number 999 is replaced by a series of Scriptural references.

Christian Aid

On a sunny, but rather cool Saturday morning, we held our Hardy Plant Sale at the Methodist Church.

As usual, this took place alongside their own sale of annual bedding plants and the regular Saturday coffee morning. There was a very lively atmosphere and a number of people remarked on how pleasing it was to see folk from other churches at the event. With contributions from St Mary's, Birtles, Warford and non-denominational, and buyers from the local area and beyond [many popped in from the Music Festival], it was a very eclectic get-together.

Many thanks to all contributors and buyers; we raised over £400 for Christian Aid. The whole amount will be Gift Aided.

Lynn and Fiona.

Volunteers Required !!

We are still looking for volunteers to go on a rota to clean the Church (vac, dust, polish etc) for an hour every four or five weeks (2 people each session) on a Wednesday or Friday morning.

Up to the summer of last year we have had contract cleaners. If we can get a team of volunteers we shall be saving the Church a considerable amount of money. Equipment and materials will be provided.

Please contact me if you are able to volunteer and keep our Church looking pristine.

Running Manchester 10k for OASIS

Sarah & I will be running the Manchester 10k again this year (Sun 28th May) in aid of the OASIS Centre; they are a Charity in Gorton East Manchester who help the poorest in our society. The congregation of St Mary's have been very generous in their support of the OASIS Centre for many years. Over the last two years between the generosity of the people of St Mary's and the matching scheme of £ for £ that my company, Hilti (Gt. Britain) Ltd. offer for employee fundraising, the 10k run alone has raised ~£2500 for the Oasis Centre. As they are now working towards achieving a permanent base for their Centre they need money and support now perhaps more than ever. With your support again this year, I would like to be able to give a further significant contribution to help them in their hugely worthwhile work

There are some pre-printed envelopes and a box at the back of Church or if you prefer, a Just Giving page has also been set up, the address is <https://www.justgiving.com/fundraising/Peter-Reynolds13>

Kind Regards & thank you all
Peter Reynolds (Church Warden)

The Annual Meeting of St.Mary's Church was held on 20th April. This is a summary of the report to the meeting by the Rector.

It is now five months since I was Instituted to the Benefice by Bishop Peter. I have worked hard to understand the two parish churches and their settings.

There is planning permission at Alderley Park to build 275 houses, so by 2020 there will be around 1000 people living there. At present, the population of our church parish of Nether Alderley (which includes Great Warford) is 1500 people, so our parish population will grow by two thirds to 2500. Many of these new parishioners will be children. So the whole scene is changing.

As a parish church we must be true to our tradition of being a relatively traditional parish church, whilst at the same time being a place where young mums and dads and children can feel that they belong and grow in faith. This time next year I would like to set up Messy Church in the Parish Hall, once a month at first, on Sunday afternoons. You can find Messy Church online: it's well established. I set up and ran Messy Church in my previous church several years ago. www.messychurch.org.uk

Alderley Park are on board with us in the project to turn the Parish Hall around to make it an up-to-date community hall. We have a unique opportunity now to get the Parish Hall future-proofed. It should not cost us money to run it: the Parish Hall should make a profit. Again, I did this before at my previous parish, so I'm in on the Parish Hall Restoration Committee for as long as it takes.

And I keep my contacts at Alderley Park to see how else we can work together.

I am conscious that there are more people on the Electoral Roll of St.Mary's Church who live outside Nether Alderley than within it. Again, I have served in this kind of church before and I understand how things are. My main aim is to maintain the parish church as healthy and thriving church, and a place where all are welcome.

At Birtles, I have the same responsibilities as at St.Mary's Church. Some regular worshippers at St.Catherine's Church live in Prestbury and Macclesfield. So my parish, taking in the church Electoral Rolls of both churches, extends from south Manchester, Poynton, Wilmslow; through Great Warford; all the Alderleys – Edge, Nether and Over; Birtles; and as far as Chelford, Prestbury and Macclesfield, and beyond. There is only one of me – with no other priest or Reader licensed to the benefice - so I do have to spread myself a bit thinly sometimes.

Kerry and I are both 'walking wounded' from the rigours of 28 years of full-time parish ministry. We may not be quite the model of a Rector and his wife that you may expect, but we have learned how to survive and thrive. We complement each other. In August we will celebrate our 40th wedding anniversary. Thank you for your welcome.
